Part II of the 2023-24 Oakland Early Learning Symposium will introduce participants to the Resilient Oakland Communities and Kids (ROCK) Toolkit. The toolkit focuses on ways child care providers and preschool teachers can increase resilience and healing, and promote the healthy social-emotional development of children in trauma-sensitive and trauma-responsive environments. It was crafted and honed to center early learning professionals so that they can offer a healing early learning environment when they are attuned to their own well-being. This symposium session will include:

- Overview of the ROCK Toolkit
- Feedback from past ROCK participants and lessons learned
- Practical ideas for implementation

All participants are invited to attend an additional in-person event that will include wellness and self-care activities, free books, and other fun giveaways on Saturday, May 4, 2024, from 10 - noon at BANANAS, Inc.

Professional development credits are available for BOTH events.

Language interpretation is available for the online event.

Due to limited capacity, Oakland providers will be prioritized in registration.

Oakland Starting Smart and Strong, Tandem Partners in Early Learning, and BANANAS, Inc. partner to organize this event. This free event is supported by the David and Lucile Packard Foundation and Kenneth Rainin Foundation.
